NOTE ON THE DATA

I. MANDATE

1. By its decision 81/34 of 27 June 1981, the Governing Council requested the Administrator to continue to provide data on the magnitude and composition of technical cooperation activities (not all activities) funded by organizations of the United Nations system.

II. PRESENTATION OF THE DATA

2. The raw data submitted by agencies/organizations for 1998 have been checked for consistency and accuracy prior to processing and presentation in tables 1 to 11, which contain both summary and detailed data. Tables 1 through 8 present data on technical cooperation expenditures while tables 9, 10 and 11 record contributions. Tables 12 through 23 contain historical data on both contributions and expenditures since 1980.

3. In more detail, table 1 presents a summary of grant technical cooperation expenditures by agencies of the entire United Nations system while table 2 shows the same data but distributed according to sectors. These tables should be consulted if interest centers only on broad aggregate information. Table 3, an extremely aggregative table, brings together total United Nations system technical cooperation expenditures according to agency, sector and category of expenditure. Two features of this table are worth observing. First, for each agency/entity, expenditures are broken down according to type of expenditure: regular budget (A); United Nations system extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP (B1); non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2); bilateral sources channelled through the United Nations system (C1); and unilateral "self-supporting" sources (C2). Second, all expenditures by UNDP, UNICEF and WFP are classified as B1 expenditures, distributed according to sector, which basically implies that these entities were directly responsible for the implementation of their entire programme. This may, in fact, not be the case, especially as regards UNDP; however, the aim is to preserve tractability and to minimize double counting. In the case of UNFPA, because of the ready availability of the requisite data, only a portion of its expenditure is classified as B1 - $99.2 million out of a total of $216.6 million in 1998. The message here is that reported B1 expenditures of executing agencies are augmented by the amount of UNFPA expenditures for which these agencies have been responsible ($117.4 million). For these reasons, table 3 gives a more detailed picture of the resource linkages among entities of United Nations system.

4. Tables 4 through 8 amplify on the sources, or expenditure categories, of table 3. More specifically, table 4 breaks down regular budget expenditures (A) by country and agency, which makes it possible to ascertain the amount of regular budgetary expenditure incurred by a given agency in a given country. As a consistency check, it will be noted that the grand total of this table is the same as that shown at the end of table 3, the extreme right column of row A. Table 5 contains the distribution of all non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B2) expenditures by country and agencies; the total in this table agrees with that of line B2 at the end of table 3, the extreme right column of row B2. The detailed country-agency breakdown of bilateral resources channelled to the United Nations executing and specialized agencies (C1) is given in table 6; the total of this table is the same as that of line C1 at the end of table 3, the extreme right column of row C1. Table 7 contains detailed expenditure data from non-United Nations system multilateral sources (B1), also classified by country and agency; the total in this table equals that shown by line B1at the end of table 3, the extreme right column of row B1. Finally, the country-agency distribution of unilateral expenditure (C2) routed to executing and specialized agencies and back to the contributing countries is shown by the "self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8; the total of this column agrees with that at the end of line C2 of table 3, the extreme right column of row C2.

5. Table 9 contains data on extrabudgetary contributions to the executing and specialized agencies, organized under the following headings: unilateral and bilateral sources (country or territory and NGOs) and multilateral sources (United Nations system and non-United Nations system). Contributions received by executing and specialized agencies to fund "self-supporting" technical cooperation expenditures are presented in table 10. Table 16 contains data relating to World Bank/IDA assistance for 1998.

6. The rest of the tables contain historical data with varying time periods between 1980-1998. Contributions to expenditure by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF, and WFP during 1993-1998 according to various criteria are given in tables 11 to 15. Technical cooperation expenditure, nominal amount and rate of growth by the entire United Nations system for 1980-1998 can be found in tables 17 and 18. Two new tables have been added: tables 19 and 20, which show historical data on regular and extrabudgetary expenditure by agency. Tables 21 and 22 contain historical data on extrabudgetary contributions to agencies. Finally, table 23 has historical data on voluntary contributions received by UNDP, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP.

III. CAVEATS

7. Use of the data in this document should be guided by the following caveats:

(a) Scope. The data on expenditure/contributions refer only to technical cooperation expenditure/contributions. The report defines technical cooperation activities to include the work of UNDP, the executing agencies, IAEA, UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP. A complete account of expenditure incurred on (and contributions to) development activities by the United Nations system can be found in the annual report of the Secretary-General on this topic;

(b) Expenditure coverage. All expenditure data refers to the field programme activities of the entities concerned. All expenditure data are also net of administrative, support and other costs. Expenditure data thus refer to the actual amount of resources directly invested in developmental activities and are referred to in this document and DP/1999/35 as field programme expenditure. The only exception is WHO: its expenditure is inclusive of these other costs;

(c) Provisional. Total agency technical cooperation expenditure for 1998 is underestimated because of an underestimation of WHO expenditure in the first year of its biennium (the biennium runs from 1998 to 1999). The resulting distortion will be corrected in next year's report, when WHO will submit more accurate data for its entire biennium. For this reason, total agency technical cooperation data for 1998 must be seen as provisional;

(d) World Bank/IDA. As a result of a shift in orientation and focus, the World Bank and IDA no longer specifically attempt to capture the technical assistance components of their projects and are thus not in a position to provide this kind of data. In these changed circumstances, a new lending instrument, the learning and innovations loans (LILs), is now being used increasingly in place of technical assistance loans (TALs). LILs provide structured support for small, time-sensitive projects to pilot promising development initiatives based on a sound development hypothesis, or to experiment in order to develop locally based models prior to a larger-scale intervention. LILs thus focus on experimentation, learning and piloting in search of possible developmental solutions, prior to larger-scale interventions. LILs incorporate opportunities for intensive monitoring and evaluation and include an assessment of borrower capacity and stakeholders' response as part of the learning exercise, when these are unknown. Loan proceeds of up to $5 million are used for the services of consultants, small works, goods and equipment over a period of two to four years. Due to its very diverse nature, LILs are not specifically geared to capacity-building and cannot be equated to technical assistance.

In addition to data on LILs, the World Bank/IDA has also provided data on TALs, and grants from the Development Grant Facility (DGF) and the Institutional Development Fund (IDF), all of which are included in the current report. TALs are used in the pursuit of one or multiple objectives, including project preparation, capacity-building, civil service reform and sectoral development. They are often used as companions to structural adjustment loans (SALs) to address long-term capacity-building issues that are strongly linked to economic policy reform. All data submitted by the World Bank/IDA for 1998 are collected into a separate table (table 16), which is new to this report;

(e) Contributions – Agency. Data on agency contributions refer to extrabudgetary contributions only; regular budgetary contributions are not included in the report. Because of this, agency contribution data in this report must not be equated with income;

(f) Contributions – UNDP and UNFPA. Data on contributions to UNDP and UNFPA refer to voluntary contributions only. In the case of UNDP, cost-sharing, contributions to local office costs, government cash counterpart contributions, funds and trust funds and management service agreements and miscellaneous have been excluded from total contributions (see document DP/1999/15/Add.2 for further details). For both entities, voluntary contributions are not the same as total contributions or total income;

(g) Contributions – UNICEF. Contribution data refer to voluntary contributions from government, the private sector and inter-organizational sources. Nevertheless, contributions are not the same as total income;

(h) Non-submission of data. Owing to unforeseen difficulties, WMO, UNITAR, UNCED, UNOPS and UNEP were not in a position to provide data for the present report.

IV. TERMINOLOGY

8. Usage of the data contained in this addendum can be enhanced considerably from an understanding of the terminology employed, some of which may be unfamiliar. The more important definitions and concepts are given below.

9. Technical cooperation assistance. Comprises activities that aim to promote increasing self-reliance and thus strengthens the conditions necessary for sustainable human development. These activities include human resources development (education, health, social development), and managerial, technical, administrative and research capabilities required to formulate and implement development plans and policies, including the management and development of appropriate institutions and enterprises, and policy advice. All United Nations entities reviewed in the present report, with the exception of the World Bank/IDA, are considered to engage in technical cooperation activities.

10. Regular budget expenditures (RBE). Refer to technical cooperation expenditures of executing and specialized agencies financed out of their assessed budgets (that is, contributions). RBE is therefore linked to voting power within agencies. Table 4 in the statistical annex contains detailed data on agency RBE. UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA, and WFP do not have RBE, since contributions to these organizations are entirely voluntary.

11. Extrabudgetary expenditures (EBE). As distinct from regular budget contributions, EBE refers to agency expenditures financed from voluntary contributions originating from two sources: multilateral and bilateral.

12. EBE – Multilateral. Multilateral sources are divided into (a) United Nations system (B1) and (b) multilateral sources outside of the United Nations system (B2). Total B1 (see table 3) expenditure comprises agency B1 and the rest of the system B1, excluding World Bank/IDA. Agency B1 expenditure funds technical cooperation activities from resources available within the United Nations system: it is, in other words, essentially a payment to agencies by other entities of the United Nations system for services rendered.

Considerable efforts have been made to avoid the problem of double counting, of counting a payment and a receipt twice. The rest of the system B1 comprises expenditure from UNDP, UNICEF, UNFPA and WFP. Line B1 at the end of table 3 shows in summary form total B1 expenditures while a detailed breakdown is given in table 7. Multilateral sources of EBE outside of the United Nations system is referred to in the present document as B2 expenditures; they are provided by outside entities such as regional development banks, the Commission of the European Communities, and the various Arab development funds. The crucial aspect of B2 expenditures is that they are passed on from outside multilateral entities to agencies of the United Nations system for the purpose of financing technical cooperation activities in developing countries. Line B2 at the end of table 3 gives a summary account of this category of EBE while the details are contained in table 5.

13. EBE – Bilateral. Bilateral EBE is also grouped into two categories (a) non-United Nations system sources (C1) and (b) unilateral self-supporting sources. The former comprises expenditures incurred against resources provided directly to the agency by a Member State or an NGO to fund technical cooperation activities in a developing country; it is resources made available to the United Nations system from bilateral donors. It also includes expenditures against multi-bilateral contributions (i.e., contribution by one country for a specific project(s) in another country) as well as expenditures by the agency against special purpose funds managed by the agency itself. The term 'unilateral' is rather confusing but it is used to emphasize the fact that such expenditures finance technical cooperation activities within the country that made the 'contribution' to the United Nations system. Unilateral expenditures are thus passed from the given country to the United Nations system and back to the same country; the only difference is that they have acquired a dual character: unilateral since they return to the contributing country; bilateral since they were routed from a country to the United Nations system.

14. Agency extrabudgetary contributions. These are used to fund EBE: one is the income side of the equation while the other is the expenditure side. Extrabudgetary contributions are voluntary contributions, which may be tied to a specific purpose or geographic location, and are divided in two broad groups: multilateral and bilateral. Multilateral contributions are subdivided into: (a) contributions from the United Nations system - in essence, such contributions represent an internal transfer (that is, payment) of resources in the United Nations system from (mainly) funding to executing agencies for services rendered and (b) contributions originating outside of the United Nations system - contributions by multilateral organizations that are not part of the United Nations system. Examples of such organizations are the African Development Bank and the Arab Gulf Fund for United Nations Development Organizations. Bilateral contributions are broken down into: (a) contributions from countries/territories - representing funds donated to the United Nations system to support activities in developing countries; (b) unilateral self-supporting contributions - contributions made by a country to finance technical cooperation activities in that country; and (c) contributions from non-governmental organizations - contributions from these sources to the United Nations system.

a/ The sum total of this column is equal to B1 minus [UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds)]+B2+C1+C2 in table 3 or, alternatively, the sums of table 5 through table 7 minus [UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds) + "Self-supporting expenditures" of table 8. In different ways, table 3 through 8 amplify the summary data contained in table 1.

b/ This column represents UNICEF and WFP expenditures for which the agency breakdown was not available.

c/ Based on expenditures from regular resources, cost-sharing, SPR, SMF/LDC and SIS.

d/ Includes DDSMS and DESIPA.

e/ Includes DDSMS only.

f/ UNFPA-funded expenditure of $281,400 to UNDP-administered fund of UNIFEM.

g/ Comprises expenditures of $6.571 million (UNCDF), $11.898 million (UNIFEM), $0.318 million (UNREP/NRE), $1.455 million (UNSO) and $31.275 (Others).

h/ Provisional. See "Note on the data" at the beginning of the report for an explanation of WHO expenditure as regards their two-year biennium period.

i/ UNDP reported these expenditures with no further breakdown.

Note:

The World Bank/IDA no longer specifically allocates expenditures to technical cooperation activities. See "Note on data" for a clarification of this issue. See also table 16 for a complete breakdown of data submitted by World Bank/IDA.

UNITAR and WMO reported no UNDP-financed technical cooperation expenditures during 1997 and 1998.

b/ Based on expenditure from regular resources, cost-sharing, SPR, SMF/LDC and SIS. As of 1997, UNV expenditure is being reported separately.

Note:

The World Bank/IDA no longer specifically allocates expenditures to technical cooperation activities. See "Note on data" for a clarification of this issue. Table 16. (a) through (e), in this report gives a complete breakdown of data submitted by the World Bank/IDA for 1998.

The sectoral data submitted by ESCWA for 1997 employed two classification schemes: the ACC Programme Classification codes and the "Allotment Account Classification effected due to the restructuring of the Secretariat of ESCWA" (covering letter of 16 March 1997 from ESCWA submitting data for 1996). For the purposes of comparability, the data for ESCWA were reclassified on the basis of the ACC sectoral codes.

b/ A - Regular budget
B1 - Funded by United Nations system multilateral sources plus UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP and UNDP (central resources and administered funds).
B2 - Non-United Nations system multilateral sources.
C1 - Bilateral resources channelled through the United Nations system.
C2 - Unilaterally financed "self-supporting" expenditures.
c/ Sectoral breakdowns were not available for amounts under "Others".
d/ Includes DDSMS and DESIPA.
e/ UNFPA-funded expenditures of $281,400 in the Population sector (11) to UNDP-administered fund for UNIFEM.
f/ The data provided by UNESCO under "Regular budget (category "A")" represent expenditures incurred under that organization's participation programme.
g/ Including support costs.

Note:

This table is an overall summary of technical cooperation expenditures of the United Nations system. The first two columns on the left shows the executing agency and the category of expenditures; the other columns show the sectoral distribution of expenditures. The purpose of the table is to identify the executing agency and the amount, by sector, of technical cooperation expenditure for which each agency was directly responsible/implemented. Thus, UNFPA directly implemented $99.2 million of its $216.6 million technical cooperation expenditure in 1998.

Source of funds category "A" corresponds to the "Funded by regular budgets" column of tables 1 and 2, while B1+B2+C1+C2 correspond to the "Funded by extrabudgetary sources other than UNDP and UNDP-administered funds. UNFPA, UNICEF and WFP" column of tables 1 and 2 plus the columns of "UNFPA", "UNICEF and WFP" and "UNDP central resources" and "UNDP-administered funds". For a more detailed breakdown of each budget source, see tables 4 through 7, and the "Self-supporting expenditures" column of table 8. See notes at the end of these tables for further explanation.

Since total B1 of this table comprises agency expenditures funded from other multilateral sources plus those of UNFPA, UNICEF, WFP and UNDP (central resources and administered funds), then agency B1 expenditure is equal to total B1 - [UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds)]. Total agency multilateral expenditure is then equal to total B1 - [UNFPA+UNICEF+WFP+UNDP(central resources and administered funds)] + B2. Total multilateral expenditure from United Nations system sources, including agency multilateral expenditures, is equal to total B1+B2 of table 3.

To assist in the interpretation of table 3, it will be helpful to work with a picture of the flow of resources through the United Nations sytem; that is, how resources are channelled from one entity to the other. Executing and specialized agencies use their own resources (from RBE and EBE) to fund activities which they execute themselves. Since these agencies also execute programmes/projects funded by other entities within the system, such as UNDP and UNFPA, they receive payment for such services. These transactions thus have two sides: expenditure for entities making the payment, and income for entities receiving the payment. Some 'funding' agencies also execute a share of their programme. For example, the value of activities funded and executed by UNDP was $17.2 million; for UNFPA, it was $99.2 million in 1998. Other entities, such as UNICEF and WFP, did not channel any of their expenditure to the rest of the United Nations system in 1998. There are also activities jointly funded and executed by more than one entity. Clearly, the resource linkages among the entitites of the United Nations system is a complex one, which also raises the issue of double counting, but considerable efforts have been taken to minimize this source of error.

Note: The data in this table refer to contributions actually received, not pledged. In the case of UNDP, UNFPA and WFP, the data refer to voluntary contributions only. For UNDP, total contributions include these additional elements: cost-sharing, funds and trust funds, government cash counterpart contributions, contributions to local office costs, extrabudgetary activities and management services agreements. See the statistical annex to the annual report of the Administrator (DP/1999/15/Add.2) for data on total contributions to UNDP. Data on contributions for UNICEF refer to total contributions, which include, besides voluntary contributions, contributions from various private sources, interorganizational arrangements and miscellaneous.
